FAUX FUR

Faux fur is a significant pattern trend that seems to be staying with us for some time to come. Used widely in home decor for throws and cushions, we now also see the importance of faux fur here in South Africa for its use amongst traditional groups.

Leopard faux fur has been particularly popular amongst the Zulu people, as the use of real leopard skins has become not only expensive but frowned upon by conservationists. Faux fur has now been accepted as a better alternative, not only because it is more cost-effective but also because it lasts longer than real hides and can be washed regularly after use.

We offer a wide range of quality faux fur designs in 20 animal patterns with a soft touch.
