Polycotton ripstop is a remarkably durable and versatile fabric, ideal for the manufacturing of workwear, security apparel, and outdoor garments that require resistance to a high level of "wear and tear."

This plain dyed 200gsm polycotton ripstop weave, with its 150cm width, offers a sturdy yet comfortable option. It is characterised by a distinctive "ripstop" weave pattern, which consists of reinforced threads woven into the fabric at regular intervals, creating a grid-like structure.

This unique construction enhances the fabric's resistance to tearing and ripping, making polycotton ripstop an excellent choice for demanding environments and activities where durability is paramount.

Additionally, it can be seamlessly used in combination with our Camouflage printed polycotton ripstop, allowing for versatile and functional designs.
